IN AND AROUND BOULOGNE-SUR-MER

* Boulogne-sur-Mer, in a few words :

From roman times Boulogne was established as a major port offering easy access to England. Julius Caesar stayed a while and Napoléon set up camp here too before setting his sights on Austerlitz.

Boulogne is France's premier fishing port with a flotilla of 195 boats from small traditional vessels to large industrial trawlers. It is no surprise therefore that Boulogne is home to Nausicaà, Europe's largest Sea Discovery Centre.

Perched on a hill, the old town with its cobbled streets and ramparts boasts a magnificent cathedral and 13th château. "Ville d'Art et d'Histoire", Boulogne enjoys national recognition for wealth of cultural heritage it has to offer.

* What to do ?

Places of interest and attractions :

Boulogne , a City of Art and History

The Upper Town houses a 12th century Belfry within superb 13th century Ramparts which encircle the cathedral, and the Château. The Château-Musée was built in the 13th century. Now it exhibits a major collection of greek vases, Eskimo masks, and Egyptians items. The imposing Notre Dame Cathedral of Boulogne was built in the 18th century on the Medieval crypt.

It is undoubtedly Napoleon who really left his mark on the town. Situated on the high ground above a small valley, you can discover the Colonne de la Grande Armée, 54m high, it immortalizes the Camp of Boulogne which was a real threat for England from 1803 to 1805. You can continue to follow in Napoleon's footsteps, if you visit the Palais Imperial which was the headquarters of the Grande Armée or visit the Poudrière, it was the Powder Magazine of the Camp of Boulogne.
