

Nord-Pas de Calais Real France Real close

Hi Véronique, it's Nicole

Nicole's inspired breaks...

A radio broadcast, a dinner table fossilized in glass, Goya's Caprichos, music festivals, well, what a programme! Of course this is just a foretaste of what happens in Nord-Pas de Calais during summer. So don't hesitate to check our website www.realfrancerealclose.fr to discover what to do in the region to spend a wonderful summer.

JOAN CROUS EXHIBITION at the glass museum and workshop in SARS POTERIES

An exhibition staged from 24th April to 25th August 2008 at the glass museum and workshop in Sars-Poteries. Table settings, glasses, plates and the remains of a meal, the banal scene of a table after a dinner with friends, except that here everything is made of glass. Joan Crous is resident artist at the glass museum and workshop in Sars-Poteries, with the extraordinary project of effectively fossilising in glass a table following a meal.

RESISTANCE MUSEUM, BONDUES

Until 17th November, the Museum will be host to an exhibition on the Resistance during the Great War from the Nord-Pas-de-Calais to Belgium. Celebrated persons from the post-war period such as Louise DE BETTIGNIES, Edith CAVELL and Gabrielle PETIT, along with others who have fallen into oblivion, laid the foundations of patriotism and of the methods which later characterised the actions of members of the Resistance between 1940 and 1944. Come and learn about the work accomplished by these First World War resistants for French, Belgian and British forces in the occupied zone.
